CARIBBEAN MEDICAL SCHOOL

Caribbean Medical School AUA is the first and only hospital-integrated US modeled medical program in the Caribbean where clinical experience starts in the first semester. AUA is different from other Caribbean medical schools because they pledge to never have more than 120 students per classroom. First and fourth semester students attend rounds at the most modern hospital in the Caribbean, Mount Saint Johns Medical Center. Our Caribbean medical school students are exposed to patients of all age groups. In addition, students practice history taking and physical examinations with patients at our ICM lab on campus. Third and fourth semester students also attend autopsies at the hospital as part of their pathology course. This is unique among the Caribbean medical schools.
